Erdman Gallery Art Exhibit: "Urban Abstractions," by Zenna Broomer, artist

Erdman Hall

Zenna Broomer is a painter who continues to explore "The Gritty Urban Landscape" as the subject for her journey from nature into the abstract. The vista from the New Jersey Turnpike provides the inspiration for her recent works. A graduate of the School of Art and Design at Wolverhampton University, located in the British Midlands, she emigrated in the 1970s and now lives in the Princeton area. She has exhibited widely in the Northeast.

Gallery hours are:

Monday–Saturday	8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.
Sunday	2:30 to 6:30 p.m.

◆ Auditions for Spring Play

This spring the Speech Communication in Ministry area of the Practical Theology Department will present George Bernard Shaw's play Saint Joan.

The play pits an individual visionary against time-honored institutions. In a country decimated by the Black Death and the Hundred Years' War, a young peasant woman, Joan of Arc, arose to lead her countrymen to drive out the invaders. Three years later she was burned at the stake, but her spirit lived on to inspire the troops to challenge the church and to tear down the feudal system.

Protestantism and nationalism were invented by Joan and a few other visionary heroes. Five hundred years after she lived, she was officially declared a saint. George Bernard Shaw limns her life and legacy with wit and wisdom, and tragic intensity.

Auditions will take place on Monday, January 30, Tuesday, January 31, and Wednesday, February 1 in 112 Templeton Hall. All members of the Seminary community are welcome to try out. No experience is necessary. All parts are open to women as well as men. Three credits are available to students who enroll in the course SC340 "Practical Theology as Drama." You can sign up for auditions at the Speech Office located at 103 Templeton Hall. Please contact Lois Haydu at 497-7963 with any questions.

◆ New Film Release—Sophie Scholl: The Final Days

Zeitgeist Films presents a new film about the true story of Sophie Scholl, a passionate young German woman—and a Christian—who helped mount an underground resistance movement against the Nazis, and who became one of the heroines of modern German history.

In 1943, as Adolf Hitler wages war across Europe, a group of German college students who call themselves the White Rose try to fight the monolithic Third Reich. One of the group's few female members, Sophie Scholl, is captured while she is distributing pamphlets on campus with her brother Hans. In the film, her cross-examination by the Gestapo escalates into a searing contest of wills as she delivers her passionate call to freedom and personal responsibility.

Winner of three German Oscars including Best Actress, and Germany's official Foreign Language Film selection for the 2005 Academy Awards, the film will open at the Film Forum on Friday, February 24. The Film Forum is located at 209 West Houston Street in New York City. For more information, contact the Film Forum at 212.727.8110 or www.filmforum.org.

For more information about the film, go to www.sophieschollmovie.com.

◆ Documentary Film—Bonhoeffer

The award-winning documentary film Bonhoeffer, by Martin Doblmeier, will be broadcast nationwide on PBS Monday, February 6 at 10:00 p.m. Eastern Standard Time (check local listings).

The film tells the story of Dietrich Bonhoeffer, the young German theologian who offered one of the first clear voices of resistance to Adolf Hitler and the rise of the Nazis. Bonhoeffer challenged his church to stand with the Jews in their time of need and eventually became part of the resistance movement and the plots to kill Hitler. Airing in conjunction with the celebration of the 100th anniversary of Bonhoeffer's birth, Bonhoeffer is a production of Journey Films of Alexandria, Virginia, and is presented by South Carolina ETV.

For more information about the film, visit http://www.journeyfilms.com/pressroom/bon-press3.htm.

◆ Thursday Evenings, February 2, 9, 16
Continuing Education Event—"The Gospel According to Mark"
Erdman Hall 7:15–9:30 p.m.
Mark's presentation of Jesus Christ is the briefest and arguably the most baffling among the New Testament's four Gospels. This series will explore Mark's historical background, its literary construction, and the Gospel's challenging expression of what it means to follow God's crucified Messiah.
C. Clifton Black, PTS's Otto A. Piper Professor of Biblical Theology, will lead this event.

◆ Friday, February 3
Continuing Education Event—"Praying More Deeply with the Scriptures: An Experiential Introduction to Lectio Divina"
Erdman Hall 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.
Lectio divina (sacred reading) is an ancient spiritual discipline that emerged in the context of Christian monasticism and that is increasingly popular among Christians of many traditions. Participants will read a scriptural passage, actively meditate on it as a kind of holy dialogue between reader and text, pray in relation to what has been meditated upon, and then rest in contemplative silence.
Jonathan Linman, director of the Center for Christian Spirituality and associate professor of ascetical theology at The General Theological Seminary of the Episcopal Church, will lead this event.

◆ Documentary Film—Bonhoeffer

The award-winning documentary film Bonhoeffer, by Martin Doblmeier, will be broadcast nationwide on PBS on Monday, February 6 at 10:00 p.m. Eastern Standard Time (check local listings).

The film tells the story of Dietrich Bonhoeffer, the young German theologian who offered one of the first clear voices of resistance to Adolf Hitler and the rise of the Nazis. Bonhoeffer challenged his church to stand with the Jews in their time of need and eventually became part of the resistance movement and the plots to kill Hitler. Airing in conjunction with the celebration of the 100th anniversary of Bonhoeffer's birth, Bonhoeffer is a production of Journey Films of Alexandria, Virginia, and is presented by South Carolina ETV.

For more information about the film, visit http://www.journeyfilms.com/pressroom/bon-press3.htm.

Continuing Education Event—"Making Pastoral Visitation More Purposeful"
Erdman Hall
10:45 a.m. (Thursday) to 3:00 p.m (Friday)

This seminar is designed to help participants think through who they are and what they are trying to accomplish in a hospital or grief visit. Interacting with theological and pastoral material, the leader will consider a basic paradigm for visitation, based on a pastoral identity grounded in the incarnation and on pastoral tools such as Scripture, prayer, and spiritual conversation.

Nelson Ould, associate minister of pastoral care at Third Presbyterian Church in Richmond, Virginia, will lead this event.

◆ Friday, February 17 and Saturday, February 18

The Women's Center Presents The Vagina Monologues
Mackay Campus Center Auditorium
8:00 p.m. (Friday and Saturday)

The Women's Center is proud to announce the return of V-Day and Eve Ensler's Obie award-winning play The Vagina Monologues to the Seminary campus. The suggested donation is $10 for general admission and $5 for students. In addition to the performances, the Women's Center will hold a V-Day pre-forum on Wednesday, February 15 at 7:00 p.m. in the Main Lounge. This will be a chance to learn more about the production, its goals and purposes, and meet representatives from Womanspace, a nonprofit agency dedicated to improving the quality of life for women in crisis, and the only agency serving victims of domestic violence and sexual assault in Mercer County, New Jersey.

For the second time, the Women's Center was granted rights to the play by the National V-Day College Campaign, a worldwide movement to stop violence against women and girls. The Seminary production will benefit Womanspace and the Global V-Day Campaign for Justice to "Comfort Women."

For more information about the production, contact Alisa Ferlicca or Christine Davies.

Enneagram Retreat—"Embark on a Journey Toward Self Discovery"
Main Lounge 6:45–9:00 p.m. (Friday)
8:45 a.m.–2:00 p.m. (Saturday)

The PTS community is invited to participate in an Enneagram Retreat on Friday, March 17 and Saturday, March 28 in the Main Lounge. The retreat will focus on:

- understanding your gifts through the Enneagram, an ancient spiritual assessment tool frequently used in ministry settings
- learning about your basic personality type and gaining new perspective for spiritual growth and transformation
- coming to a deeper, compassionate understanding of others as you learn about the nine Enneagram personality types

Susie Smith, pastor of the United Christian Church in Levittown, Pennsylvania, and Lynda Roberts, a management consultant who teaches leadership and management classes, will lead the retreat.

Registration is on a first-come, first-served basis, through February 28 in the Chapel Office. The cost is $10 for students, $15 for couples, and $20 for members of the PTS community (space permitting). Limited childcare will be available for the two-day retreat.

For more information about the Enneagram and to take a free sample test ($10 for the longer version), go to www.enneagraminstitute.com. Please bring the printout of your "scores" to the retreat. A box lunch and notebook will be included during Saturday's workshop.

The retreat is sponsored by the Wholistic Health Initiative.

Erdman Hall
10:45 a.m. (Thursday) to 3:00 p.m (Friday)
This seminar is designed to help participants think through who they are and what they are trying to accomplish in a hospital or grief visit. Interacting with theological and pastoral material, the leader will consider a basic paradigm for visitation, based on a pastoral identity grounded in the incarnation and on pastoral tools such as Scripture, prayer, and spiritual conversation.

Nelson Ould, associate minister of pastoral care at Third Presbyterian Church in Richmond, Virginia, will lead this event.

Enneagram Retreat—"Embark on a Journey Toward Self Discovery"
Main Lounge 6:45–9:00 p.m. (Friday)
8:45 a.m.–2:00 p.m. (Saturday)

The PTS community is invited to participate in an Enneagram Retreat on Friday, March 17 and Saturday, March 28 in the Main Lounge. The retreat will focus on:

- understanding your gifts through the Enneagram, an ancient spiritual assessment tool frequently used in ministry settings
- learning about your basic personality type and gaining new perspective for spiritual growth and transformation
- coming to a deeper, compassionate understanding of others as you learn about the nine Enneagram personality types

Susie Smith, pastor of the United Christian Church in Levittown, Pennsylvania, and Lynda Roberts, a management consultant who teaches leadership and management classes, will lead the retreat.

Registration is on a first-come, first-served basis, through February 28 in the Chapel Office. The cost is $10 for students, $15 for couples, and $20 for members of the PTS community (space permitting). Limited childcare will be available for the two-day retreat.

For more information about the Enneagram and to take a free sample test ($10 for the longer version), go to www.enneagraminstitute.com. Please bring the printout of your "scores" to the retreat. A box lunch and notebook will be included during Saturday's workshop.

The retreat is sponsored by the Wholistic Health Initiative.

Dr. Elizabeth Bloch-Smith of the Tel Dor Excavation Project will speak about dig opportunities for volunteers at Tel Dor, Israel this summer (June 29 through August 5). Tel Dor is a large mound located on Israel's Mediterranean Coast, about 30km south of Haifa. With natural harbors to the north and south, the site served as an important port from the Late Bronze Age through the Roman Period and is one of Israel's nicest beaches today.

The excavation is a cooperative endeavor, a truly interdisciplinary project. Archaeologists joined by scientists from the Weizmann Institute of Sciences, conservationists, paleozoologists, paleobotanists, and computer specialists are revolutionizing the discipline of archaeology.

If you have ever wanted to dig, now is your chance. Come learn about Tel Dor and the excitement of archeological field work. This event is sponsored by the Department of Biblical Studies.

◆ Friday, March 17 and Saturday, March 18
Enneagram Retreat—"Embark on a Journey Toward Self Discovery"
Main Lounge 6:45–9:00 p.m. (Friday)
8:45 a.m.–2:00 p.m. (Saturday)

The PTS community is invited to participate in an Enneagram Retreat on Friday, March 17 and Saturday, March 28 in the Main Lounge. The retreat will focus on:

- understanding your gifts through the Enneagram, an ancient spiritual assessment tool frequently used in ministry settings
- learning about your basic personality type and gaining new perspective for spiritual growth and transformation
- coming to a deeper, compassionate understanding of others as you learn about the nine Enneagram personality types

Susie Smith, pastor of the United Christian Church in Levittown, Pennsylvania, and Lynda Roberts, a management consultant who teaches leadership and management classes, will lead the retreat.

Registration is on a first-come, first-served basis, through February 28 in the Chapel Office. The cost is $10 for students, $15 for couples, and $25 for members of the PTS community (space permitting). Limited childcare will be available for the two-day retreat.

For more information about the Enneagram and to take a free sample test ($10 for the longer version), go to www.enneagraminstitute.com. Please bring the printout of your "scores" to the retreat. Box lunches can be ordered ahead for $6 when individuals register for the retreat. Participants will receive a 75-page notebook.

The retreat is sponsored by the Wholistic Health Initiative.

◆ Tuesday, February 21, Wednesday, February 22, and Thursday, February 23

The Princeton University Public Lecture Series—"God and War: The Odd Appeal of War, Are We at War?, and What Does God Have to Do with It?"

McCosh 50, Princeton University 8:00 p.m.

The PTS community is invited to attend three lectures given by Mark Juergensmeyer, director of global and international studies and professor of sociology and religious students at the University of California, Santa Barbara.

The three lectures will address the following questions: What purpose does the concept of war serve in times of social chaos and uncertainty? What is the relationship between violence and religion? and How can the global terror war be contained?

Juergensmeyer is an expert on religious violence, conflict resolution, and South Asian religion and politics, and has published more than 200 articles and a dozen books, including Terror in the Mind of God: The Global Rise of Religious Violence (University of California Press, revised edition 2003). He is also a frequent commentator in the news media, including CNN, NBC, CBS, BBC, NPR, Fox News, ABC's Politically Incorrect, and CNBC's Dennis Miller Show.

The Morgan Lectures in New Testament Studies—"Who(se) Acts? How Should We Read the Acts of the Apostles Today?"

Westerly Road Church 7:30 p.m.
37 Westerly Road, Princeton

The PTS community is invited to attend a lecture given by Steve Walton, senior lecturer in Greek and New Testament studies at London Bible College.

Walton is presently writing the World Biblical Commentary on Acts while a resident member at the Center of Theological Inquiry. He previously taught New Testament at St. John's College, Nottingham, and Bedford College. An ordained Anglican minister, he has worked in parish ministry in Merseyside and with the Church Pastoral Aid Society as their vocation and ministry adviser. He is the author of Leadership and Lifestyle (Cambridge University Press, 2000), a major study of Paul's Miletus speech and 1 Thessalonians, and A Call to Live: Vocation for Everyone (SPCK/Triangle, 1994). He also chairs the Acts seminar of the British New Testament Conference and is a member of the steering group of the Book of Acts Section of the Society of Biblical Literature.

The Morgan Lectures in New Testament Studies series is named in honor of the founding pastor of Westerly Road Church and graduate of Princeton University and Princeton Theological Seminary, Edward H. Morgan, and is one of several events being organized to celebrate the 50th anniversary year of Westerly Road Church.

Fernando F. Segovia, the Oberlin Graduate Professor of New Testament and Early Christianity in the Divinity School and the Graduate Department of Religion at Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tennessee, will give the annual Alexander Thompson Lecture.

Segovia is active in biblical and theological studies. As a critic, his primary areas of interest and research are method and theory in interpretation, ideological criticism, non-Western and minority traditions of interpretation, and Johannine studies. His most recent major work in this area is a volume coedited with Stephen Moore, Postcolonial Biblical

Criticism: Interdisciplinary Intersections, published by T&T Clark International. As a theologian, his primary areas of expertise and publication are non-Western theologies, minority theologies, and Latino religion and theology. His most recent major work in this field is a volume coedited with Eleazar Fernandez, The Unfinished Dream: Theological Reflections on America from the Margins, published by Orbis Books.

He is presently engaged in a variety of ongoing projects, including a volume on postcolonial criticism, A Postcolonial Commentary of the New Testament, two volumes for Semeia Studies, one on minority criticism and the other on the future shape and direction of biblical studies, and a volume on Latino hermeneutics. Beyond his scholarly work, Segovia remains committed to the task of championing the voices of those who have no voice throughout society and culture, including in theological education.

The Morgan Lectures in New Testament Studies—"Who(se) Acts? How Should We Read the Acts of the Apostles Today?"

Westerly Road Church 7:30 p.m.
37 Westerly Road, Princeton

The PTS community is invited to attend a lecture given by Steve Walton, senior lecturer in Greek and New Testament studies at London Bible College.

Walton is presently writing the World Biblical Commentary on Acts while a resident member at the Center of Theological Inquiry. He previously taught New Testament at St. John's College, Nottingham, and Bedford College. An ordained Anglican minister, he has worked in parish ministry in Merseyside and with the Church Pastoral Aid Society as their vocation and ministry adviser. He is the author of Leadership and Lifestyle (Cambridge University Press, 2000), a major study of Paul's Miletus speech and 1 Thessalonians, and A Call to Live: Vocation for Everyone (SPCK/Triangle, 1994). He also chairs the Acts seminar of the British New Testament Conference and is a member of the steering group of the Book of Acts Section of the Society of Biblical Literature.

The Morgan Lectures in New Testament Studies series is named in honor of Edward H. Morgan, the founding pastor of Westerly Road Church and a graduate of Princeton University and Princeton Theological Seminary. The lecture series is one of several events being organized to celebrate the 50th anniversary year of Westerly Road Church.

◆ Teaching Assistants Needed for 2006–2007
The Biblical Department announces openings for positions as teaching assistants in Hebrew and Greek for the 2006–2007 academic year. Interested M.Div. students should write a brief letter of application indicating:

1. Interests and reasons for applying
2. Language preference (Hebrew or Greek, though students may apply for both languages)
3. General background in the language (list of relevant courses and grades)

4. Two references (names of faculty members who may comment on student's abilities)
5. Past teaching experience
6. Any other factors that might bear on the student's general qualifications for these positions

All letters of application should be sent (preferably via email) to professors Choon-Leong Seow (Hebrew) or Ross Wagner (Greek). Students applying for both languages should send their applications to both professors Seow and Wagner. The application deadline is Saturday, April 1.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Lecture—"The Converging Martyrdom of Malcolm and Martin"

Miller Chapel 7:30 p.m.

James W. Douglass, a Roman Catholic theologian, author, and long-time peace activist, will give the annual Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Lecture.

For the last ten years, Douglass has been researching and writing on the assassinations of Martin Luther King Jr., Malcolm X, and John and Robert Kennedy. He was the only writer to attend from beginning to end and to report in detail on the first trial for the assassination of Martin Luther King Jr., held at Memphis, Tennessee, in November/December 1999.

He has written four books on the theology of nonviolence: The Nonviolent Cross (Macmillan, 1968), Resistance and Contemplation (Doubleday, 1972), Lightning East to West (Crossroads, 1983), and The Nonviolent Coming of God (Orbis, 1991), and he coauthored with his wife, Shelley, Dear Gandhi: Now What? (New Society Publishers, 1988).

Douglass recommends that anyone attending his lecture read his article, "The Martin Luther King Conspiracy Exposed in Memphis" (Probe Magazine, 2000) beforehand. Copies are available free of charge from the Communications/Publications Office, 301 Templeton Hall.

◆ The African American Pulpit 2006 Seminarians' Issue Contest

Submit your sermon to The African American Pulpit's fall 2006 seminarians' issue contest with the opportunity to receive a cash prize and publication of your sermon.

The African American Pulpit is offering three cash prizes of $500, $300, and $100 for the top three sermons chosen by the coexecutive editors and selected advisory board members. The top 12 to 15 sermons will be published in the fall 2006 seminarians' issue.

Sermons will be judged based on:

Length: Sermons should be no longer than seven double-spaced pages

Focus: How well the sermon concentrates on the text selected

Flow of the sermon: How well the sermon naturally moves from one point to the next, and creativity used in approaching the text

All submissions must be postmarked and received by The African American Pulpit no later than Wednesday, March 15. All contestants must be 18 years or older and can have no more than five years preaching experience. Sermons from pastors who are seminarians will not be accepted.
Only one sermon may be submitted per contestant. All manuscripts (hard copies) must be accompanied by a disk or CD, and the material should be saved in a Microsoft Word format. Submissions sent by email will not be accepted. Please be sure to place your name on each page of your sermon.

Along with your submission, please send no more than a four-to-six sentence biographical summary and a recent black and white or color photograph of yourself. A résumé or vita in place of the biographical summary will not be accepted. Please include your complete contact information: name, mailing address, home phone number, work phone number, cell phone number, fax number, and email address.

◆ Call for Papers for Graduate Studies Conference in Religion

The Department of Religious Studies at Yale University is pleased to announce a call for papers for a graduate studies conference titled "Channels of Communication: Interreligious Dialogues in Late Antiquity," scheduled to be held at Yale University on Sunday and Monday, October 22–23, 2006.

The conference is intended to provide a forum for conversation between students and faculty who have been conducting research on aspects of cultural interaction between representatives of various religions in the ancient world, including but not limited to Judaism, Christianity, Islam, Manicheanism, Greco-Roman religions, etc. The Department of Religious Studies is particularly interested in submissions that approach the topic of interreligious dialogue from cross-disciplinary or theoretical perspectives. Topics for consideration might include but are not limited to:

- Representations of interreligious dialogue
- Literary and exegetical debates
- Material culture of ancient religion
- Historical methods for the study of interreligious contact

Submissions are welcome from graduate students of all levels, although the Department of Religious Studies is particularly interested in presentations based on long-term research projects.

If you would like to be considered for participation, please submit a 300-word abstract that clearly states the central argument of your paper via email to either of the conference organizers listed below by Monday, May 15. Please include full contact information with your submission. Papers should have presentation times of approximately 20 minutes.

Prospective attendees are encouraged to seek funding from their home institutions. The organizers will make every effort to provide housing for conference participants. All inquiries concerning the conference, including travel and accommodations, should be directed to the conference organizers.

This call for papers is also available for general distribution at www.yale.edu/religiousstudies/grad-conference.pdf.

To submit a paper, contact Joshua Ezra Burns, Ph.D. candidate in ancient Judaism at joshua.e.burns@yale.edu or David L. Eastman, Ph.D. candidate in ancient Christianity at david.eastman@yale.edu.

◆ Fulbright Grant Competition

The Institute of International Education announces that the competition for 2007–2008 Fulbright grants for graduate study abroad open Monday, May 1. The purpose of these grants is to increase mutual understanding between the people of the United States and the people of other countries through the exchange of persons, knowledge, and skills. Applicants must be U.S. citizens and are required to have sufficient proficiency in the language of the host country to carry out their proposed study or research.

Information and application forms are available online (http://us.fulbrightonline.org/home.html). Interested students are asked to contact Michael Davis at 497.7835, who will coordinate a meeting in April with Professor James Charlesworth (Fulbright campus advisor) and all students intending to apply for a Fulbright Fellowship, to discuss the application process. The firm deadline for submitting applications is Friday, September 22.

◆ Critical Language Scholarships for Intensive Summer Institutes

The United States Department of State and the Council of American Overseas Research Centers (CAORC) are pleased to announce the availability of scholarships to study critical need languages overseas for students for the summer of 2006.

Available programs are beginning Arabic in Egypt, Jordan, and Tunisia, intermediate and advanced Arabic in Yemen, beginning and intermediate Bangla in Bangladesh, intermediate and advanced Bangla, Hindi, and Urdu, and all levels of Punjabi, in India, and beginning and intermediate Turkish in Turkey.

The Department of State Critical Language Scholarships will provide funding for U.S. citizen master's and Ph.D. students to participate in beginning, intermediate, and advanced-level summer language programs at American Overseas Research Centers.

Recipients of this scholarship will be expected to continue their language study beyond the scholarship period and later apply their critical language skills in their professional careers.

The programs range from 6 weeks to 11 weeks, beginning in early-to-mid-June. Programs begin with a pre-departure orientation session in Washington, D.C.

All program costs are covered for participants. University-level credit may be available.

Please see www.caorc.org for program descriptions, applications, and deadlines.

These programs are sponsored by the United States Department of State, Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs, and administered by the Council of American Overseas Research Centers.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Lecture—"The Converging Martyrdom of Malcolm and Martin"
Miller Chapel 7:30 p.m.

James W. Douglass, a Roman Catholic theologian, author, and long-time peace activist, will give the annual Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Lecture.

For the last ten years, Douglass has been researching and writing on the assassinations of Martin Luther King Jr., Malcolm X, and John and Robert Kennedy. He was the only writer to attend from beginning to end and to report in detail on the first trial for the assassination of Martin Luther King Jr., held at Memphis, Tennessee, in November/December 1999.

He has written four books on the theology of nonviolence: The Nonviolent Cross (Macmillan, 1968), Resistance and Contemplation (Doubleday, 1972), Lightning East to West (Crossroads, 1983), and The Nonviolent Coming of God (Orbis, 1991), and he coauthored with his wife, Shelley, Dear Gandhi: Now What? (New Society Publishers, 1988).

Douglass recommends that anyone attending his lecture read his article, "The Martin Luther King Conspiracy Exposed in Memphis" (Probe Magazine, 2000) beforehand. Copies are available free of charge from the Communications/Publications Office, 301 Templeton Hall.

Church Drama Production—Saint Joan by George Bernard Shaw

Gambrell Room 7:30 p.m. (Thursday)
Scheide Hall 7:30 p.m. (Friday)
7:30 p.m. (Saturday)
2:30 p.m. (Sunday)

PTS's Department of Speech Communication in Ministry presents Saint Joan by George Bernard Shaw.

The play pits an individual visionary against time-honored institutions. In a country decimated by the Black Death and the Hundred Years' War, a young peasant woman, Joan of Arc, arose to lead her countrymen to drive out the invaders. Three years later, she was captured, bought and sold, and burned at the stake, but her spirit lived on to inspire the troops, to challenge the church, and to tear down the feudal system. Five hundred years after she lived, she was officially declared a saint. George Bernard Shaw limns her life and legacy with wit and wisdom, and tragic intensity.

The play, staged by Robert Lanchester, assistant in speech, is free of charge, but seating is limited. Tickets are available through the Speech Communication in Ministry Office located at 103 Templeton Hall or by calling Lois Haydu.

◆ "Footprints: Walk the Path out of Poverty"—A Walk against Hunger and Homelessness

On Saturday, April 29 at 8:30 a.m., The Crisis Ministry of Princeton and Trenton will sponsor a walk against hunger and homelessness. The goal is to raise awareness and funds for The Crisis Ministry.

The walk will take place on the towpath between Kingston and Princeton, approximately five miles. Teams of youth from congregations, families with children, and people of all ages are encouraged to participate.

If you want to create a team, for example, the Seminary choir, deacons, dorms, or other PTS group affiliations, this is another opportunity to walk the path out of poverty.

The Crisis Ministry is seeking volunteers to assist with this event. Volunteers are needed prior to the walk, as well as on the day of the event. If you want to be involved or would like to reserve a date for them to speak with your group, or for more information or materials, please contact Marcia MacKillop at marciam@thecrisisministry.org, or visit www.thecrisisministry.org.

"The Hope of the Church: Celebrating Common Ground"—A Consultation at Montreat Conference Center

The PTS community is invited to attend "The Hope of the Church: Celebrating Common Ground"—a consultation of the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) at Montreat Conference Center in Montreat, North Carolina.

This is an opportunity to join with other concerned members of the Presbyterian Church in dialogue with church moderators, seminary presidents, national leaders, seasoned pastors, elders, and deacons, as well as young pastors and clergy just entering the pastorate. The intent of this consultation is to be a conversation out of which people are encouraged and inspired to discover and celebrate those areas of common ground that is shared in ministry as the family of Christ.

Scholarship grants for students are available for the program fee only in most cases. Please seek other resources for assistance with travel, housing and meals.

◆ Facilities Announcements

A Reminder to Students

If you have a maintenance concern (no heat, broken shade, loose doorknob, clogged drain,etc.), please contact the Facilities Office with your request. You can either call 497.7778 or email facilities@ptsem.edu and let us know the problem. A work order will be generated and confirmed by email.

When writing or leaving a voice message, be sure to leave your name, residence location, telephone number, and the nature of your call. If you encounter an emergency maintenance concern after normal business hours (4:30 p.m.), please call 497.7777, which connects you with the security dispatch desk.

Upcoming Summer Job Positions

The Facilities Office is looking for Seminary students and/or spouses to work on its staff mid-May through Labor Day weekend. Positions are available in the following areas: grounds work (must wear steel-tipped boots) and security base dispatch phones.

The security dispatch position (eight hour shifts) requires the ability to speak clearly and have excellent enunciation and communication skills in order to effectively communicate with the Seminary community and security officers via radio.

If you are interested in either of these positions, stop by the Facilities Office to fill out an application or call 497.7778 for further information.

◆ Senior and Middler Class Prizes and Fellowships

Senior Class Fellowships

Are you writing a senior thesis for course credit? If so, and if you have been in residence as a middler, you are invited to enter your thesis in competition for a senior class fellowship for the pursuit of advanced study in Old Testament, New Testament, the Departments of History, Theology, Practical Theology, and the Program in Religion and Society. Each fellowship carries an honorarium of $3,000.

Senior and Middler Prizes

The Robert L. Maitland Prizes in New Testament Exegesis and English Bible

The sum of $1,000 will be given for the best exegesis of a passage of the New Testament. The passage for 2005–2006 must be related to the death of Jesus in the New Testament.

The sum of $1,000 will be given for the best essay on an assigned subject in English Bible. The topic for 2005–2006 is "Jew and Gentile: God, God's People, and the Nations."

The John Finley McLaren Prize in Biblical Theology

The sum of $1,000 will be awarded for the best essay on an assigned subject in biblical theology. The subject for 2005–2006 is "God and Human Suffering."

Please contact the Office of the Dean of Academic Affairs (126 Administration Building) no later than Saturday, April 1 with your intention of submitting a thesis in competition. Specify the area in which it is to be considered.

Two copies of the thesis without grade or other markings, showing the name(s) of the professor(s) under whose direction it was written, must be delivered to the Office of Academic Affairs by 9:00 a.m. on last day of classes, Friday, April 21.

For more detailed instructions on submitting essays for prizes, please refer to the current issue of the Seminary catalogue, pages 211–222.

◆ Wednesday, March 29 and Wednesday, April 5
Seminarians for Peace and Justice Lenten Bible Study—"Reflections on Food and Justice"
Private Dining Room 7:00 a.m.
During Lent we take a step back and look at the state of ourselves and the world. God invites us to take part in God's work that is already taking place. Because God loved the world, disciples are called to practice and preach love in real and concrete ways.

This four-week Bible study will look at a variety of topics. We will explore together the implications of God's delivering love, economic integrity, repentance and action, and solidarity in the midst of suffering.

As part of the Lenten practice of discipline and prayer, we will meet Wednesdays at 7:00 a.m. The remaining dates of this study are Wednesday, March 29 and April 5. Middlers Francey Wattman and Krista Wuertz are facilitating this Bible study. The PTS community is welcome to join them at any time.

◆ Wednesday, March 29
Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Lecture—"The Converging Martyrdom of Malcolm and Martin"
Miller Chapel 7:30 p.m.
James W. Douglass, a Roman Catholic theologian, author, and long-time peace activist, will give the annual Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Lecture.

For the last ten years, Douglass has been researching and writing on the assassinations of Martin Luther King Jr., Malcolm X, and John and Robert Kennedy. He was the only writer to attend from beginning to end and to report in detail on the first trial for the assassination of Martin Luther King Jr., held at Memphis, Tennessee, in November/December 1999.

He has written four books on the theology of nonviolence: The Nonviolent Cross (Macmillan, 1968), Resistance and Contemplation (Doubleday, 1972), Lightning East to West (Crossroads, 1983), and The Nonviolent Coming of God (Orbis, 1991), and he coauthored with his wife, Shelley, Dear Gandhi: Now What? (New Society Publishers, 1988).

Douglass recommends that anyone attending his lecture read his article, "The Martin Luther King Conspiracy Exposed in Memphis" (Probe Magazine, 2000) beforehand. Copies are available free of charge from the Communications/Publications Office, 301 Templeton Hall.

◆ Thursday, March 30, Friday, March 31, Saturday, April 1, and Sunday, April 2
Drama Production—Saint Joan by George Bernard Shaw
Gambrell Room 7:30 p.m. (Thursday)
Scheide Hall 7:30 p.m. (Friday)
7:30 p.m. (Saturday)
2:30 p.m. (Sunday)

PTS's Department of Speech Communication in Ministry presents Saint Joan by George Bernard Shaw.

The play pits an individual visionary against time-honored institutions. In a country decimated by the Black Death and the Hundred Years' War, a young peasant woman, Joan of Arc, arose to lead her countrymen to drive out the invaders. Three years later, she was captured, bought and sold, and burned at the stake, but her spirit lived on to inspire the troops, to challenge the church, and to tear down the feudal system. Five hundred years after she lived, she was officially declared a saint. George Bernard Shaw limns her life and legacy with wit and wisdom, and tragic intensity.

The play, staged by Robert Lanchester, assistant in speech, is free of charge, but seating is limited. Tickets are available through the Speech Communication in Ministry Office located at 103 Templeton Hall or by calling Lois Haydu.

Continuing Education Event—"Look Toward the Heavens—The Art World of He Qi"

Erdman Hall 5:30 p.m. (reception)
6:15 p.m. (presentation)

He Qi, arguably China's most internationally sought after contemporary Christian artist, will discuss his art and his spiritual journey during and after the Cultural Revolution in China during a visit to PTS on Wednesday, April 5. His presentation "Look Toward the Heavens—The Art World of He Qi," will include slides of his work.

Qi is a professor at the Nanjing Union Theological Seminary in China and a tutor for master students at Nanjing University, as well as a member of the China Art Association and the Asian Christian Art Association. He has been creating modern Chinese Christian art since 1983. His brilliant, colorful, and highly contemporary paintings emerge from Chinese contexts and blend Chinese folk customs and traditional Chinese painting techniques with the western art of the Middle and Modern Ages.

Qi was the first among mainland Chinese to earn a Ph.D. in religious art after the Cultural Revolution, studying at the Hamburg Art Institute in Germany. He has exhibited in Japan, Hong Kong, Switzerland, Germany, Great Britain, and the United States, as well as in mainland China. He is presently artist-in-residence at the Overseas Ministry Center in New Haven, Connecticut.

◆ Thursday, April 6

Abraham Kuyper Prize for Excellence in Reformed Theology and Public Life and the Abraham Kuyper Lecture—"The Gospel Blimp Revisited: Reflections on Christian Witness and Persecution"

Main Lounge 7:30 p.m.

Founder and chairman of the board of the Institute of Global Engagement and former U.S. Ambassador-at-Large for International Religious Freedom Robert A. Seiple is the recipient of PTS's 2006 Abraham Kuyper Prize for Excellence in Reformed Theology and Public Life. He will receive the award when he delivers the Kuyper Lecture on Thursday, April 6.

Ambassador Seiple will look at both positive and negative examples of mission activity and the responses it has received in various nations. He seeks to convey that the message, motivation, and methodology of sharing the gospel are important in an effective Christian witness. Christians should have an incarnational ministry, he believes, focused on spreading the reality that the kingdom of God is at hand, rather than focused on themselves.

President Clinton appointed Seiple to the position of U.S. Ambassador-at-Large for International Religious Freedom in 1999, a post created by the International Religious Freedom Act of 1998. In this capacity he was charged with promoting religious freedom worldwide, promoting reconciliation in those areas where conflict had been implemented along religious lines, and addressing U.S. foreign policy to reflect these goals.

Seiple left his ambassadorial post in 2001 to found the Institute for Global Engagement, which he continues to serve as chair. The institute, according to its web site, was "created to develop a sustainable environment for religious freedom worldwide, and to inspire and equip emerging leaders with faith-based methodologies of engagement." It works with governments and at grassroots levels to achieve the goal of religious freedom for all faiths, even those who choose no faith.

◆ "Footprints: Walk the Path out of Poverty"—A Walk against Hunger and Homelessness
On Saturday, April 29 at 8:30 a.m., The Crisis Ministry of Princeton and Trenton will sponsor a walk against hunger and homelessness. The goal is to raise awareness and funds for The Crisis Ministry.

The walk will take place on the towpath between Kingston and Princeton, approximately five miles. Teams of seminarians such as deacons, dorms, or other PTS group affiliations, youth from congregations, families with children, and people of all ages are encouraged to participate.

The Crisis Ministry is seeking volunteers to assist with this event. Volunteers are needed prior to the walk, as well as on the day of the event. If you want to be involved or would like to reserve a date for The Crisis Ministry to speak with your group, or for more information or materials, please contact Marcia MacKillop at marciam@thecrisisministry.org, or visit www.thecrisisministry.org.

Summer Field Education: Information regarding summer field education is forthcoming. Expect more information in next week's issue of the Wineskin.

Please contact the Summer Session Office at 497.3643 or email Laura Wisdom Guest at laura.wisdom@ptsem.edu with any questions.

◆ Wednesday, July 5 through Saturday, July 8
"The Hope of the Church: Celebrating Common Ground"—A Consultation at Montreat Conference Center
The PTS community is invited to attend "The Hope of the Church: Celebrating Common Ground"—a consultation of the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) at Montreat Conference Center in Montreat, North Carolina.

This is an opportunity to join with other concerned members of the Presbyterian Church in dialogue with church moderators, seminary presidents, national leaders, seasoned pastors, elders, and deacons, as well as young pastors and clergy just entering the pastorate. This consultation will encourage and inspire you to discover and celebrate those areas of common ground that are shared in ministry as the family of Christ.

Scholarship grants for students are available for the program fee only in most cases. Please seek other resources for assistance with travel, housing and meals.

◆ Facilities Announcements

A Reminder to Students

If you have a maintenance concern (no heat, broken shade, loose doorknob, clogged drain,etc.), please contact the Facilities Office with your request. You can either call 497.7778 or email facilities@ptsem.edu and let us know the problem. A work order will be generated and confirmed by email.

When writing or leaving a voice message, be sure to leave your name, residence location, telephone number, and the nature of your call. If you encounter an emergency maintenance concern after normal business hours (4:30 p.m.), please call 497.7777, which connects you with the security dispatch desk.

Upcoming Summer Job Positions

The Facilities Office is looking for Seminary students and/or spouses to work on its staff mid-May through Labor Day weekend. Positions are available in the following areas: grounds work (must wear steel-tipped boots) and security base dispatch phones.

The security dispatch position (eight hour shifts) requires the ability to speak clearly with excellent enunciation and communication skills in order to effectively communicate with the Seminary community and security officers via radio.

If you are interested in either of these positions, stop by the Facilities Office to fill out an application or call 497.7778 for further information.

This event is sponsored by the Princeton Evangelical Fellowship, a Princeton University student group, and Westerly Road Church. Light refreshments will follow.

◆ Sunday, April 2

Islamic Society of Central Jersey Open House

Islamic Society of Central Jersey 5:00–8:00 p.m.
4145 Route One South, Monmouth Junction

The Islamic Society of Central Jersey invites the PTS community to an open house on Sunday, April 2. Come and learn more about the legacy of the prophet Muhammad and his significance to the Christian faith. Many prophets, like Moses, Abraham, Joseph, Noah, and Jesus are well known to the Jewish and Christian faiths, a fact that unites all in interfaith activities.

The Prophet Muhammad, on the other hand, remains a mystery to many. In light of the recent publication of the 12 offensive cartoons denigrating the Prophet Muhammad, members of The Islamic Society of Central Jersey seek to offer a peaceful presentation of their faith to promote understanding and respect for all faiths.

Dinner will be served. For more information, contact Robert Moore at 924.5022 or visit www.peacecoalition.org.

◆ Sunday, April 2
Drama Production—Saint Joan by George Bernard Shaw
Gambrell Room, Scheide Hall 2:30 p.m.

PTS's Department of Speech Communication in Ministry presents Saint Joan by George Bernard Shaw.

The play pits an individual visionary against time-honored institutions. In a country decimated by the Black Death and the Hundred Years' War, a young peasant woman, Joan of Arc, arose to lead her countrymen to drive out the invaders. Three years later, she was captured, bought and sold, and burned at the stake, but her spirit lived on to inspire the troops, to challenge the church, and to tear down the feudal system. Five hundred years after she lived, she was officially declared a saint. George Bernard Shaw limns her life and legacy with wit and wisdom, and tragic intensity.

The play, staged by Robert Lanchester, assistant in speech, is free of charge, but seating is limited. Tickets are available through the Speech Communication in Ministry Office located at 103 Templeton Hall or by calling Lois Haydu.

Continuing Education Event—"The Three Rs of Vital Congregations: Retraditioning, Reframing, and Reimagining"
Erdman Hall
10:45 a.m. (Monday)–3:00 p.m. (Tuesday)

Are you tired of prepackaged programs that claim they can fix the mainline church? Not a program, this event offers real-life insights on congregational renewal gathered during Diana Butler Bass's three-year Lilly Endowment research project studying 50 vital mainline congregations. Defying much of the conventional wisdom about church growth, she will explore the dynamics of tradition, narrative, and imagination in congregational life.

Diana Butler Bass, senior research fellow in church history at Virginia Theological Seminary in Alexandria, Virginia, will lead this event.

Wellness Forum Series—"Inner Bonding"—A Journal Approach to Self-Integration

Student Government 1:00–2:00 p.m.
Association Room, Mackay Campus Center

The last event of the spring semester Wellness Forum Series will take place on Wednesday, April 5. This is an opportunity to learn a unique, simple, yet very powerful approach to journaling by dialoguing with different parts of the self and with God.

These "different" voices or perspectives sometimes compete inside us, leaving us feeling confused or stuck. Writing out the conversation brings new insight, humor, clarity, and often resolution of specific issues, as well as a sense of self-integration.

This dialogue approach is far more than venting on paper. Called "Inner Bonding," the dialogue helps journalers develop an internal, loving adult voice, and provides a unique opening for God's wisdom as well.

All are welcome. The session will be led by Nancy Schongalla-Bowman, director of student counseling.

Continuing Education Event—"Look toward the Heavens—The Art World of He Qi"

Erdman Hall 5:30 p.m. (reception)
6:15 p.m. (presentation)

He Qi, arguably China's most internationally sought after contemporary Christian artist, will discuss his art and his spiritual journey during and after the Cultural Revolution in China during a visit to PTS on Wednesday, April 5. His presentation "Look toward the Heavens—The Art World of He Qi," will include slides of his work.

Qi is a professor at the Nanjing Union Theological Seminary in China and a tutor for master students at Nanjing University, as well as a member of the China Art Association and the Asian Christian Art Association. He has been creating modern Chinese Christian art since 1983. His brilliant, colorful, and highly contemporary paintings emerge from Chinese contexts and blend Chinese folk customs and traditional Chinese painting techniques with the western art of the Middle and Modern Ages.

Qi was the first among mainland Chinese to earn a Ph.D. in religious art after the Cultural Revolution, studying at the Hamburg Art Institute in Germany. He has exhibited in Japan, Hong Kong, Switzerland, Germany, Great Britain, and the United States, as well as in mainland China. He is presently artist-in-residence at the Overseas Ministry Center in New Haven, Connecticut.

National Capital Semester for Seminarians Informational Session

West Balcony, Main Dining Room 12:30–1:30 p.m.

The National Capital Semester for Seminarians, offered every spring semester at Wesley Theological Seminary in Washington. D.C., brings an elite corps of participants from leading theological schools across the country together for an intense study of ethics, theology, and public policy.

The program, open to M.Div. middlers, provides an array of options that allow you to build into your semester all the learning opportunities you desire. Gain new insight into how theology and public policy relate through a unique hands-on experience in the nation's capital.

Dr. Shaun Casey, National Capital Semester for Seminarians director and assistant professor of Christian ethics at Wesley Theological Seminary, will speak.

Interested M.Div. juniors and students in dual-degree years one and two are invited to bring their lunch and attend this session.

◆ Thursday, April 6
Abraham Kuyper Prize for Excellence in Reformed Theology and Public Life and the Abraham Kuyper Lecture—"The Gospel Blimp Revisited: Reflections on Christian Witness and Persecution"
Main Lounge 7:30 p.m.
Founder and chairman of the board of the Institute for Global Engagement and former U.S. Ambassador-at-Large for International Religious Freedom Robert A. Seiple is the recipient of PTS's 2006 Abraham Kuyper Prize for Excellence in Reformed Theology and Public Life. He will receive the award when he delivers the Kuyper Lecture on Thursday, April 6.

Ambassador Seiple will look at both positive and negative examples of mission activity and the responses it has received in various nations. He seeks to convey that the message, motivation, and methodology of sharing the gospel are important in an effective Christian witness. Christians should have an incarnational ministry, he believes, focused on spreading the reality that the kingdom of God is at hand, rather than focused on themselves.

President Clinton appointed Seiple to the position of U.S. Ambassador-at-Large for International Religious Freedom in 1999, a post created by the International Religious Freedom Act of 1998. In this capacity he was charged with promoting religious freedom worldwide, promoting reconciliation in those areas where conflict had been implemented along religious lines, and addressing U.S. foreign policy to reflect these goals.

Seiple left his ambassadorial post in 2001 to found the Institute for Global Engagement, which he continues to serve as chair. The institute, according to its web site, was "created to develop a sustainable environment for religious freedom worldwide, and to inspire and equip emerging leaders with faith-based methodologies of engagement." It works with governments and at grassroots levels to achieve the goal of religious freedom for all faiths, even those who choose no faith.

Rescheduled Alexander Thompson Lecture—"Postcolonial Biblical Criticism and the Gospel of John"
Main Lounge 7:00 p.m.
Fernando F. Segovia, the Oberlin Graduate Professor of New Testament and Early Christianity in the Divinity School and the Graduate Department of Religion at Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tennessee, will give the annual Alexander Thompson Lecture.

Segovia is active in biblical and theological studies. As a critic, his primary areas of interest and research are method and theory in interpretation, ideological criticism, non-Western and minority traditions of interpretation, and Johannine studies. His most recent major work in this area is a volume coedited with Stephen Moore, Postcolonial Biblical Criticism: Interdisciplinary Intersections, published by T&T Clark International. As a theologian, his primary areas of expertise and publication are non-Western theologies, minority theologies, and Latino religion and theology. His most recent major work in this field is a volume coedited with Eleazar Fernandez, The Unfinished Dream: Theological Reflections on America from the Margins, published by Orbis Books.

He is presently engaged in a variety of ongoing projects, including a volume on postcolonial criticism, A Postcolonial Commentary of the New Testament, two volumes for Semeia Studies, one on minority criticism and the other on the future shape and direction of biblical studies, and a volume on Latino hermeneutics. Beyond his scholarly work, Segovia remains committed to the task of championing the voices of those who have no voice throughout society and culture, including in theological education.

◆ Housing and Auxiliary Services Announcements

Dormitory and Roberts/Tennent Hall Residents
If you find yourself locked out of your room or apartment during normal work hours, please try to locate the building custodian first. Do not call security unless the custodian cannot be located. This saves time and is often faster, as security may be at another part of the campus and unable to come to your assistance immediately.

Spring Blood Drive
Our annual spring blood drive will be held on Wednesday, April 5 in the Main Lounge from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Appointments can be made through the Office of Housing and Auxiliary Services.

Room Draw
Room draw will be held on Monday, April 24 at 2:00 p.m. in Stuart 1 for those students who wish to change dorm rooms for the fall term. A list of available rooms will be posted in the Office of Housing and Auxiliary Services, and in each dormitory on Thursday, April 20.

Summer Apartment Sublets
Students who wish to sublet their apartments for the summer are asked to stop by the Office of Housing and Auxiliary Services for information regarding this procedure. A sign-up sheet will be posted for those students who want to sublet into and out of apartments. All sublets must be approved by the Office of Housing and Auxiliary Services.

Housing Residents Assistant Positions for the 2006–2007 Academic Year
Housing resident assistant positions for the 2006–2007 academic year are available for Alexander, Brown, and Hodge Halls, and CRW and Tennent campuses. If you are interested in these positions, please stop by the Office of Housing and Auxiliary Services, 203 Templeton Hall, to pick up an application and job description. ◆ Sunday, April 2

Islamic Society of Central Jersey Open House
Islamic Society of Central Jersey 5:00–8:00 p.m.
4145 Route One South, Monmouth Junction

The Islamic Society of Central Jersey invites the PTS community to an open house on Sunday, April 2. Come and learn more about the legacy of the prophet Muhammad and his significance to the Christian faith. Many prophets, like Moses, Abraham, Joseph, Noah, and Jesus, are well known to the Jewish and Christian faiths, a fact that unites all in interfaith activities.

The Prophet Muhammad, on the other hand,

This Week's ❖ Events

◆ Monday, April 10 through Friday, June 2
Erdman Gallery Art Exhibit: "World War II Sketches and Other Works," by Sergio Bonotto, artist
Erdman Hall

Sergio Bonotto was born in Turin, Italy, and came to the United States as a war refugee in 1940. As an infantry rifleman in World War II, he sketched the very limited world around him. He studied drawing at Princeton University and received an M.A. in engineering from Columbia University in New York City. He spent his working life in industry. After retirement he returned to his love of drawing, prints, and watercolors, learned how to operate an offset press, and started his own business selling notecards. His war sketches won an award from General George C. Marshal in 1950, and were exhibited in the United States and in his hometown of Turin. Gallery hours are:

Monday–Saturday	8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.
Sunday	2:30 to 9:00 p.m.

A reception for the artist will be held on Monday, April 10 from 4:30 to 5:45 p.m. in the Erdman Art Gallery.

Rescheduled Alexander Thompson Lecture—"Postcolonial Biblical Criticism and the Gospel of John"

Main Lounge 7:00 p.m.

Fernando F. Segovia, the Oberlin Graduate Professor of New Testament and Early Christianity in the Divinity School and the Graduate Department of Religion at Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tennessee, will give the annual Alexander Thompson Lecture.

Segovia is active in biblical and theological studies. As a critic, his primary areas of interest and research are method and theory in interpretation, ideological criticism, non-Western and minority traditions of interpretation, and Johannine studies. His most recent major work in this area is a volume coedited with Stephen Moore, Postcolonial Biblical Criticism: Interdisciplinary Intersections, published by T&T Clark International. As a theologian, his primary areas of expertise and publication are non-Western theologies, minority theologies, and Latino religion and theology. His most recent major work in this field is a volume coedited with Eleazar Fernandez, The Unfinished Dream: Theological Reflections on America from the Margins, published by Orbis Books.

He is presently engaged in a variety of ongoing projects, including a volume on postcolonial criticism, A Postcolonial Commentary of the New Testament, two volumes for Semeia Studies, one on minority criticism and the other on the future shape and direction of biblical studies, and a volume on Latino hermeneutics. Beyond his scholarly work, Segovia remains committed to the task of championing the voices of those who have no voice throughout society and culture, including in theological education.

Theological Students' Fellowship Lecture—"Serving the City: Reaching for Excellence in Serving Youth"

Main Lounge 12:30 p.m.

Afterschool programs can be powerful tools for church service and witness. But despite all their dedicated efforts, too few churches see the academic, social, or spiritual transformation they want in their neighborhood ministry.

You can do better—now or in that church you get called to next year.

Drawing on nearly a decade in urban, crosscultural youth work, his networks with other ministries, and social science research, PTS senior James Kumin Severance will orient you to the central issues in starting, maintaining, and progressively improving the academic, social, and spiritual impact of afterschool ministries for children and youth.

J. Wentzel van Huyssteen, PTS's James I. McCord Professor of Theology and Science, will lead a discussion on his new book, Alone in the World: Human Uniqueness in Science and Theology, on Tuesday, April 18 in the Princeton University Store.

Alone in the World argues that scientific notions of human uniqueness help us to ground theological notions of human distinctiveness in flesh-and-blood, embodied experiences and protect us from unhelpful abstraction when trying to understand the image of God. Fifteen spectacular prehistoric cave paintings from Western Europe that depict the origins of the embodied human mind are reproduced in full-color in the book.

This event is free and open to the public. Refreshments will be served. For more information, go to www.pustore.com.
